

Field Studies Tutor/Outdoor Activities Instructor Skern Lodge

Skern Lodge is a well-established outdoor centre in North Devon. We are a highly regarded provider of adventure activities, field studies and development training; our success is due to the high calibre of our team and their wide range of knowledge and skills.

We have an opportunity for you to join our Field Studies/Instructional team for 2018. You will be responsible for delivering our field studies courses from Key Stage 2 through to A level, as well as delivering our multi-activity outdoor programmes to a variety of groups.

To competently deliver our field studies programmes at A2 level, it is essential that you have a Geography degree as well as relevant teaching experience and knowledge.

In addition to delivering our field studies courses, you will also instruct sessions on our multi-activity programmes, which include climbing, kayaking, surfing, rafting as well as a range of on-site activities, to a variety of groups. Therefore a strong interest in outdoor activities is essential and qualifications desirable. However training and assistance with obtaining qualifications and experience in these areas will be provided throughout the year.

This role is available from 26th February through to mid-November. Salary £15,780 - £16,800pa (pro rata), dependant on age and experience. Accommodation available.

If you wish to apply for this role, please e-mail your CV along with a covering letter, detailing your relevant experience to Linda Haines.

E-mail: linda@skernlodge.co.uk

Closing date for applications: Thursday, 14th December 2017